Learning Objective

To take photographs using forced perspective

You will need to work in pairs or threes.

The person taking the photos will need to direct the other people where to go to make sure that the photo works.

Take multiple of the same shot as the smallest movement can ruin the effect.

Think about what in the foreground and background and what is in focus and out of focus

Edit your best photos by cropping and enhancing bright and contrast.

At the end of the lesson upload your best photos to the assignment set on Google Classroom
